LORAIN HIGH SCHOOL, LORAIN, OHIO

LORAIN HIGH SCHOOL . . . ERECTED AND DEDICATED BY THE CITIZENS OF LORAIN, OHIO . . . THAT THEIR CHILDREN MIGHT BE INSTILLED WITH THE BELIEF . . . THAT THROUGH EDUCATION LIFE MAY BE . . .

BETTER

AND RICHER AND FULLER

Scimitar 1946

Defender of the "American Dream" . . .

Admiral Ernest J. King . . . distinguished graduate of Lorain High School . . . He served his country with distinction in her hour of greatest need. Because he believed in America . . . we, too, can believe . . . and . . . dream.

THAT LIFE MAY BE BETTER AND

"... A Symbol of Hope for the Oppressed ..."

As the final ceremonies were concluded on the deck of the Missouri . . . the last chapter was written to one of history's costliest wars . . . Men lived . . . and died . . . for their ideal. General MacArthur voiced the thoughts of us all . . . "General Eichelberger, have our country's flag unfurled and in Tokyo's sun let it wave in its full glory as a symbol of hope for the oppressed and as a harbinger of victory for the right" . . .

Mamoru Shigemitsu signs the surrender document in behalf of the Emperor of Japan. The "rising sun" had set on Tokyo Bay . . . September 2, 1945.

Unconditional surrender became a reality as Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, United States Representative, signs below the bold signature of General Douglas MacArthur to lead the list of Allied signers.

Pearl Harbor . . . Avenged!

RICHER AND FULLER . . .

Eugene Sadowski charges out a book under the careful supervision of the librarian, Miss Thelma Pitts. Busy filing a card is Mary Ciccati, library aid.

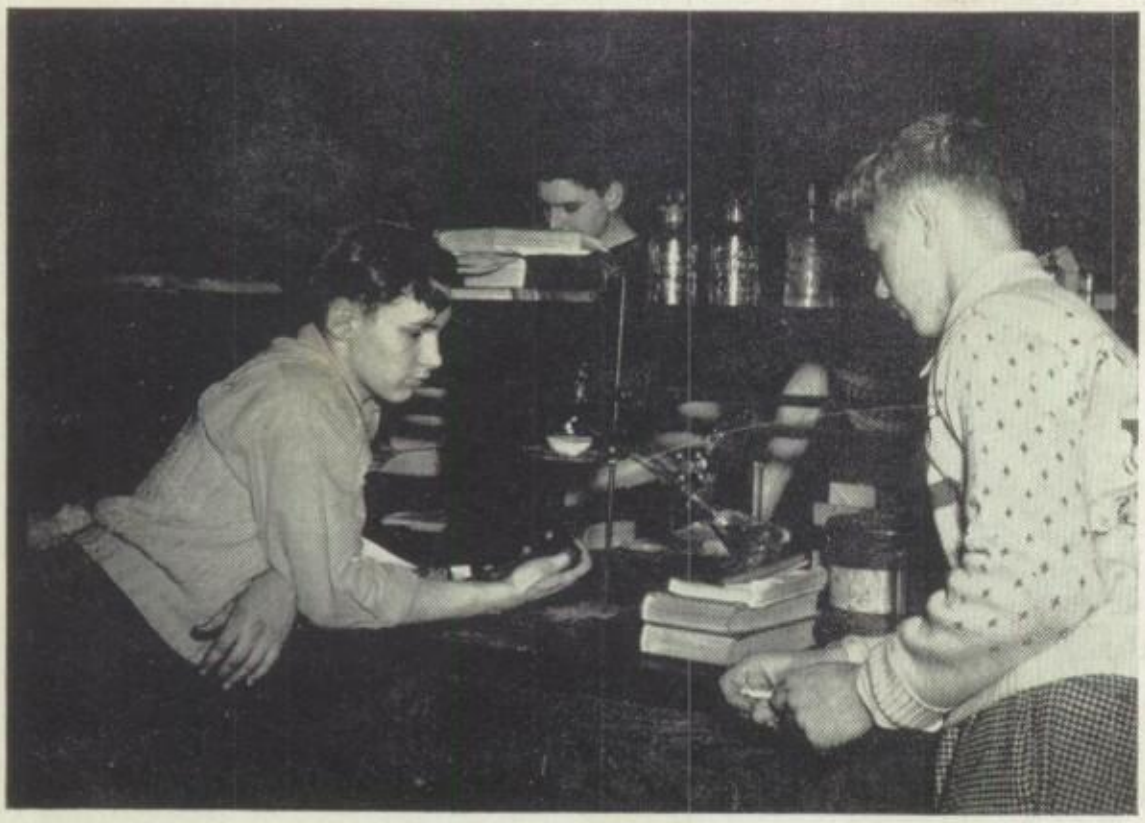
KNOWLEDGE is power . . . Books . . . too are important . . . Long ago . . . it was said . . . "the pen is mightier than the sword" . . . There is no substitute for a good book.

THAT LIFE MAY BE BETTER AND

"Education is the Driving Force Toward a Better Life"

EVERY city, town, and village has slum areas . . . where living conditions are sub-standard. Ignorance . . . of medicine . . . of food . . . of sanitation . . . vanishing ideals . . . absence of a sense of values. Delinquent adults and children . . . All are directly traceable to the lack of education.

And we sang! "Gloria in Excelsis." It was Christmas. We sang the "good news" . . . for all people . . . everywhere. "Joy to the WORLD!"



Not only to know . . . but to know exactly. Science can lead the way to better living. Bill Wise watches closely a chemical reaction.

RICHER AND FULLER . . .

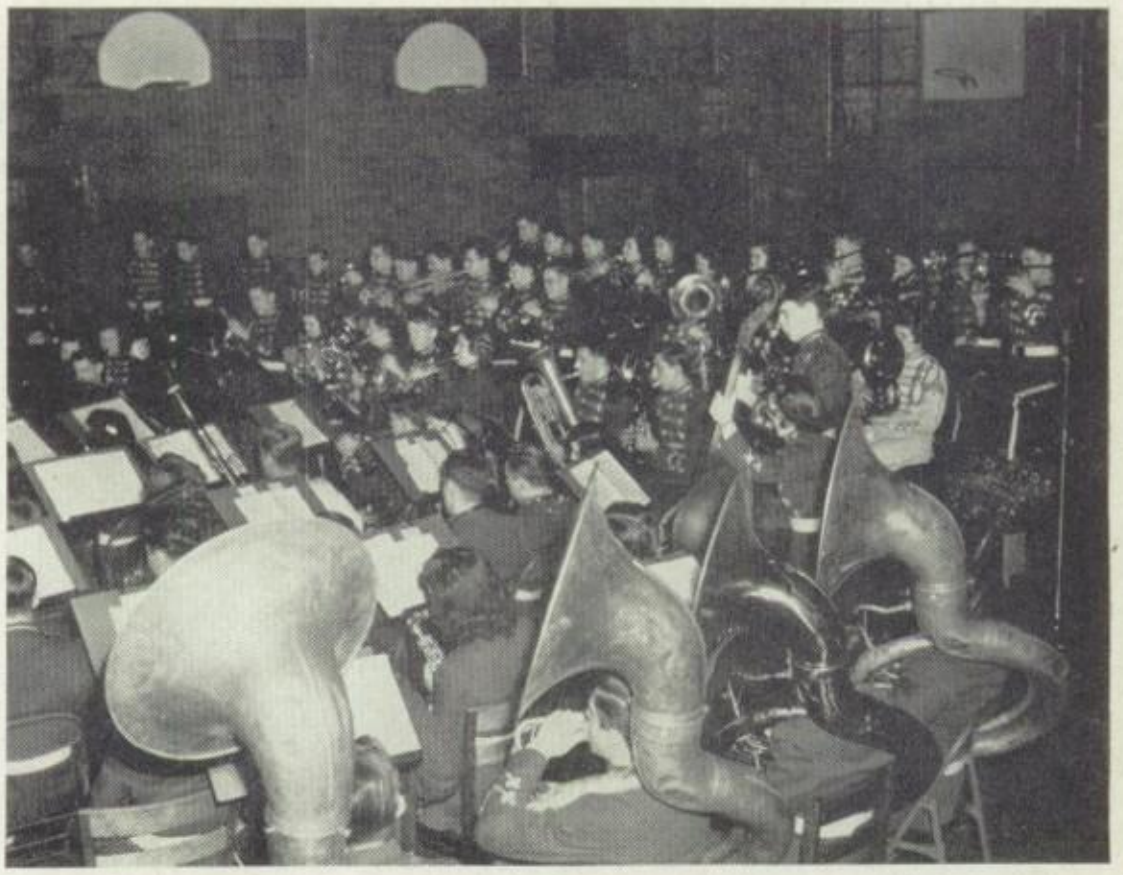
Students are busy painting scenery for the school play. In the background . . . Jerry Freedman's mural . . . a reminder of his artistic achievements.

ARTISTS with the paint brush . . . now . . . Artists in living tomorrow. We must develop a sense of the aesthetic to live abundantly a full and happy life.

THAT LIFE MAY BE BETTER AND

"Appreciation of Finer Things is Richness of Life"

RICHNESS of life is not measured by material possessions but rather by the ability to appreciate the fine things Inspirational art . . . good music . . . Love of nature . . . home . . . and family when blended together lead to a rich life . . .



It's the band in another good concert!

Voices blended in beautiful harmony . . . speaking truly the language of all people.

RICHER AND FULLER . . .

George Hronec, high school representative in the Lehi League Extemporaneous Speech Contest busily studies his question . . . "The Negro in America."

THAT LIFE MAY BE BETTER AND

"Fullness of Life is Just a Reflection from the Mirror of Tolerance"

WAR . . . Riot . . . Insurrection . . . All spring from intolerance . . . To be tolerant of every man's race, creed, and ideals is a MUST if life is to be full.

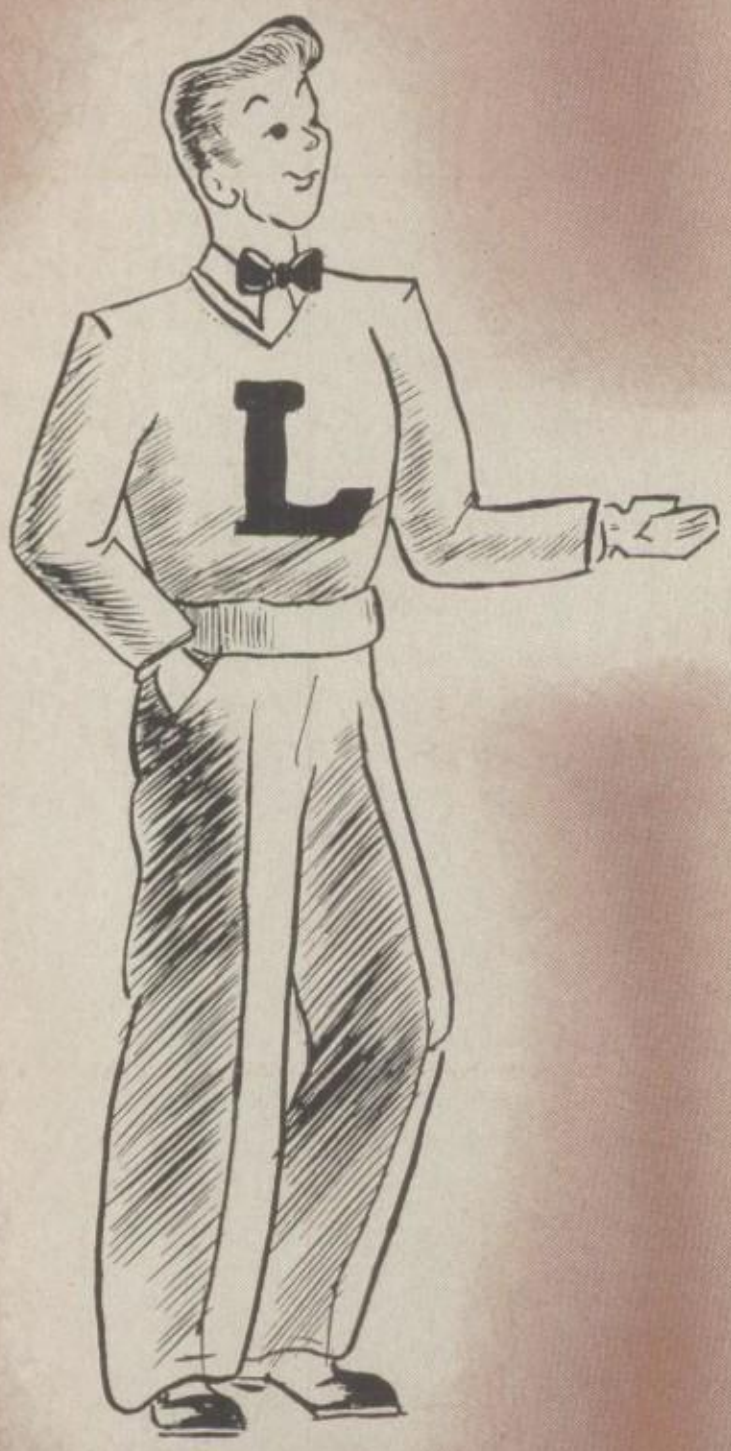
Education teaches us to be tolerant . . . and appreciative of every person's abilities.

Religious education helps us to understand our ONE God . . . and the ways we worship Him.

At the Lake Erie League Music Festival . . . All the choruses sang. Effective were the numbers sung by the massed choirs.

Doris Rhodes of Elyria High School was accompanist. Mr. Hansen is about to direct one selection.

RICHER AND FULLER . . .



ADMINISTRATION

SCHOOL changed, too, as we remembered newer . . . bigger . . . sweeping changes . . . in the world . . . With the close of the war . . . veterans returned to complete interrupted programs . . . seek counsel for future plans . . . The G. I. Bill helped. Mr. McCaskey was busy keeping informed . . . helping others. Our school was getting ready for a new day . . . of peaceful living.

1946

"THAT LIFE MAY BE BETTER AND RICHER AND FULLER . . . "

Phil Young, vice-president of '46-B, chats with Mr. Shook about senior activities. Pat Werner, office receptionist, has just concluded a conversation with Shirley Trifiletti, who waits for her appointment time.

Our Principal Was Our Counselor

NEVER too busy to be of help . . . always willing . . . Eager to be of service with a suggestion . . . Mr. Kenneth C. Shook worked faithfully to guide us to seek that BETTER Life.

Mr. Luttrell was busy with many school activities. Here we see him dictating a letter to Miss Margaret Moir, his cheerful secretary.

Our Superintendent Directed the Schools

WITH peace came new problems . . . Veterans returned to complete their education . . . Schools needed to carry on in spite of shortages . . . substitute materials . . . Lorain children must have good schools . . . Mr. C. J. W. Luttrell was on the job . . . always.

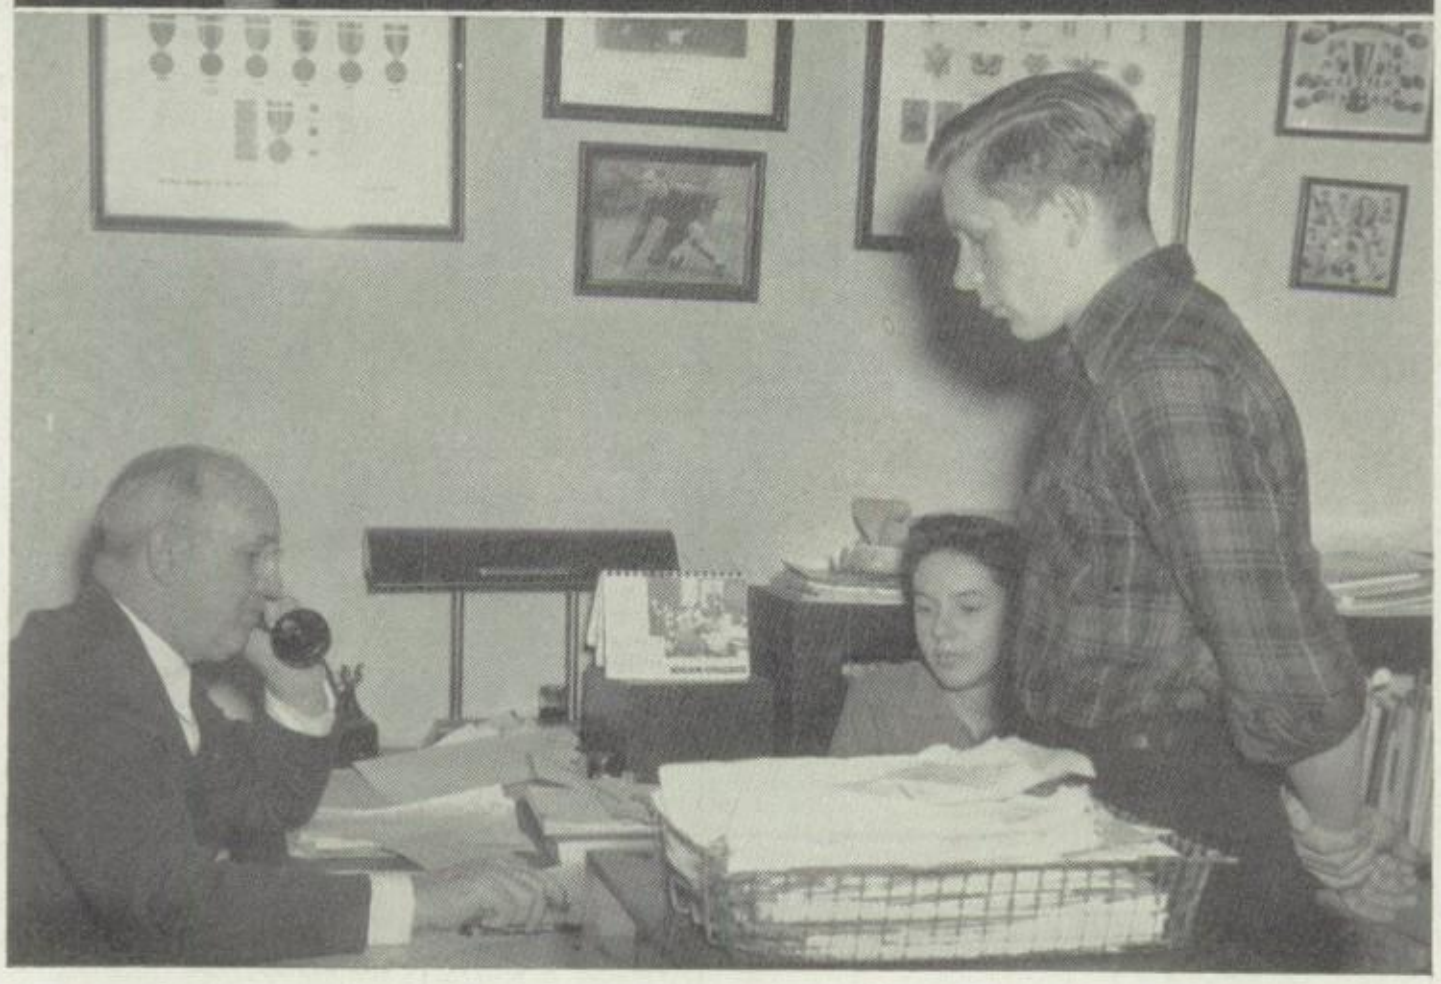
These Members Operate Our Schools

IN the hands of the members of the Board of Education are the details of keeping the schools in operation. Theirs is the responsibility for securing the countless little things that are needed in good schools. More than just buying chalk, erasers, papers, and general supplies, these members also had to see that means of obtaining a desirable education would be unhampered by the problems that arise after the close of every great war. School children did not lose. Education went on in the pattern of building useful lives for living today as well as tomorrow.



Top picture: Miss Doris Long, Girls' Guidance teacher confers with Dorothy Nickel, Margaret Ondo, and Audrey Firestone about going to college.
Bottom picture: Another phone call in a busy day for our Boys' Guidance teacher, Mr. E. M. McCaskey. George Matelsky and Eva Eneff wait for a brief conference.

Guidance, Too, Is Important

WITH colleges overcrowded, girls discovered that applications couldn't be too early for 1947. Whether the guidance related to a schedule conflict, a choice of subjects, or any problem that needed mature counsel, Miss Long and Mr. McCaskey were always willing to help.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

Class rehearsal for "Taming of the Shrew" showed Petruchio (Tony Pathe) preparing to tame the shrew Catherine (Doris Jean Hole). It was an interesting scene for the entire Dramatics Arts class to observe.

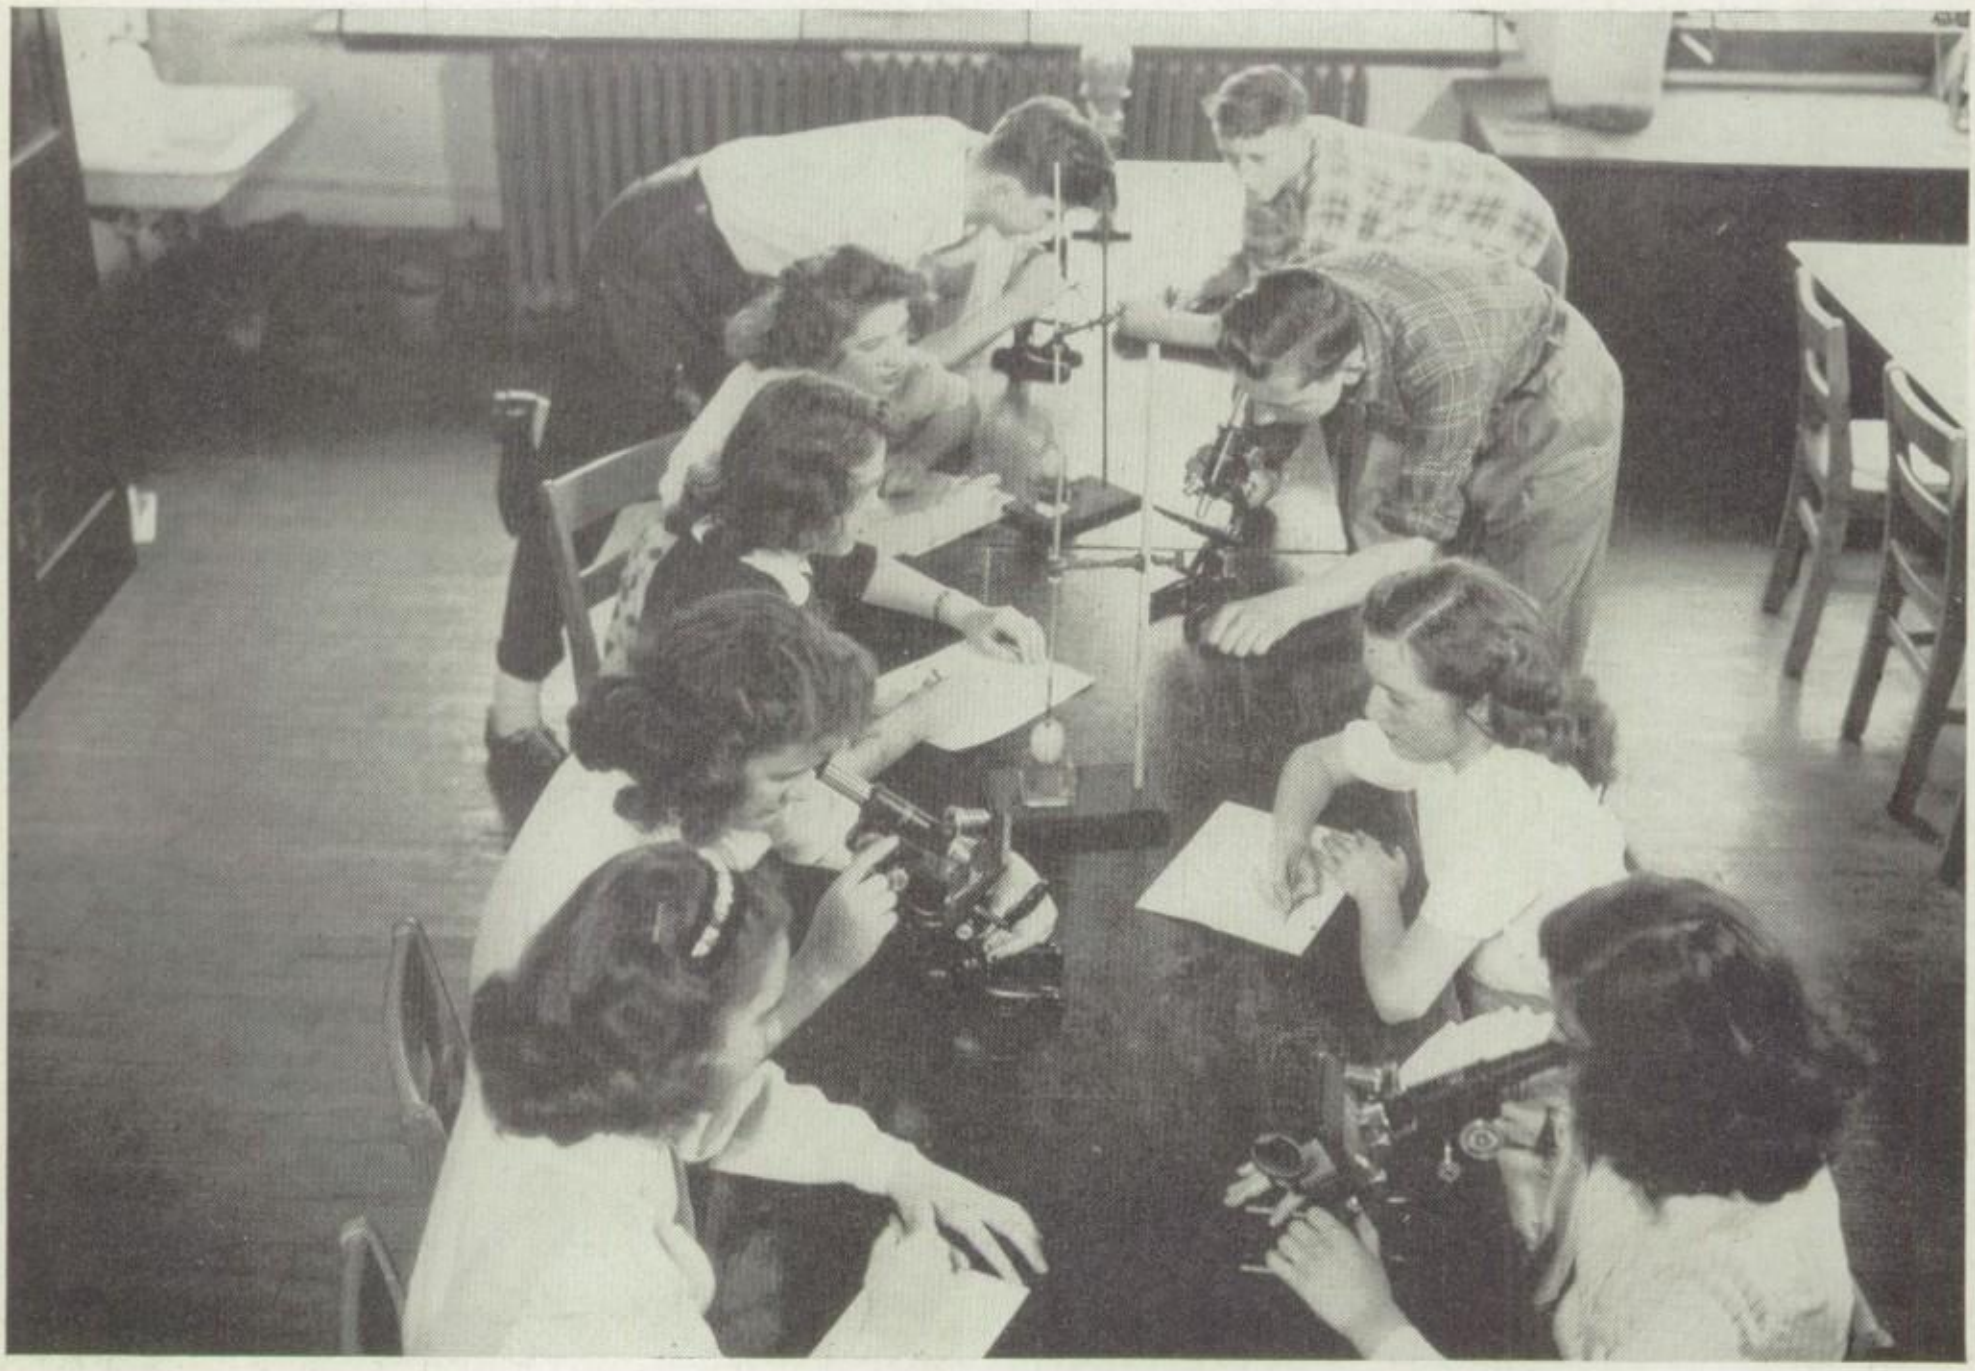
APPRECIATION of good things . . . art, music, literature . . . depends upon knowing good things. Good literature was not only fun . . . inspiration . . . now . . . but also good for living . . . and memories later on. We studied the books . . . read the poems aloud . . . acted out the scenes from the plays. Literature lived again . . . and we learned that literature . . . is LIFE.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

Pupils in one of Miss Wright's General English sections examine book jackets preparatory to writing themes suggested by the titles. Novel experiment, and interesting, too.

AS one writer put it, "There is no frigate like a book" . . . Yes, we discovered that books were people in action . . . wishing . . . striving . . . hoping . . . building a pattern for life. Sometimes strange . . . sometimes new . . . always interesting. Lands away became lands near home. We learned to see life everywhere and understand it better . . . through good books. Truly . . . English in action!

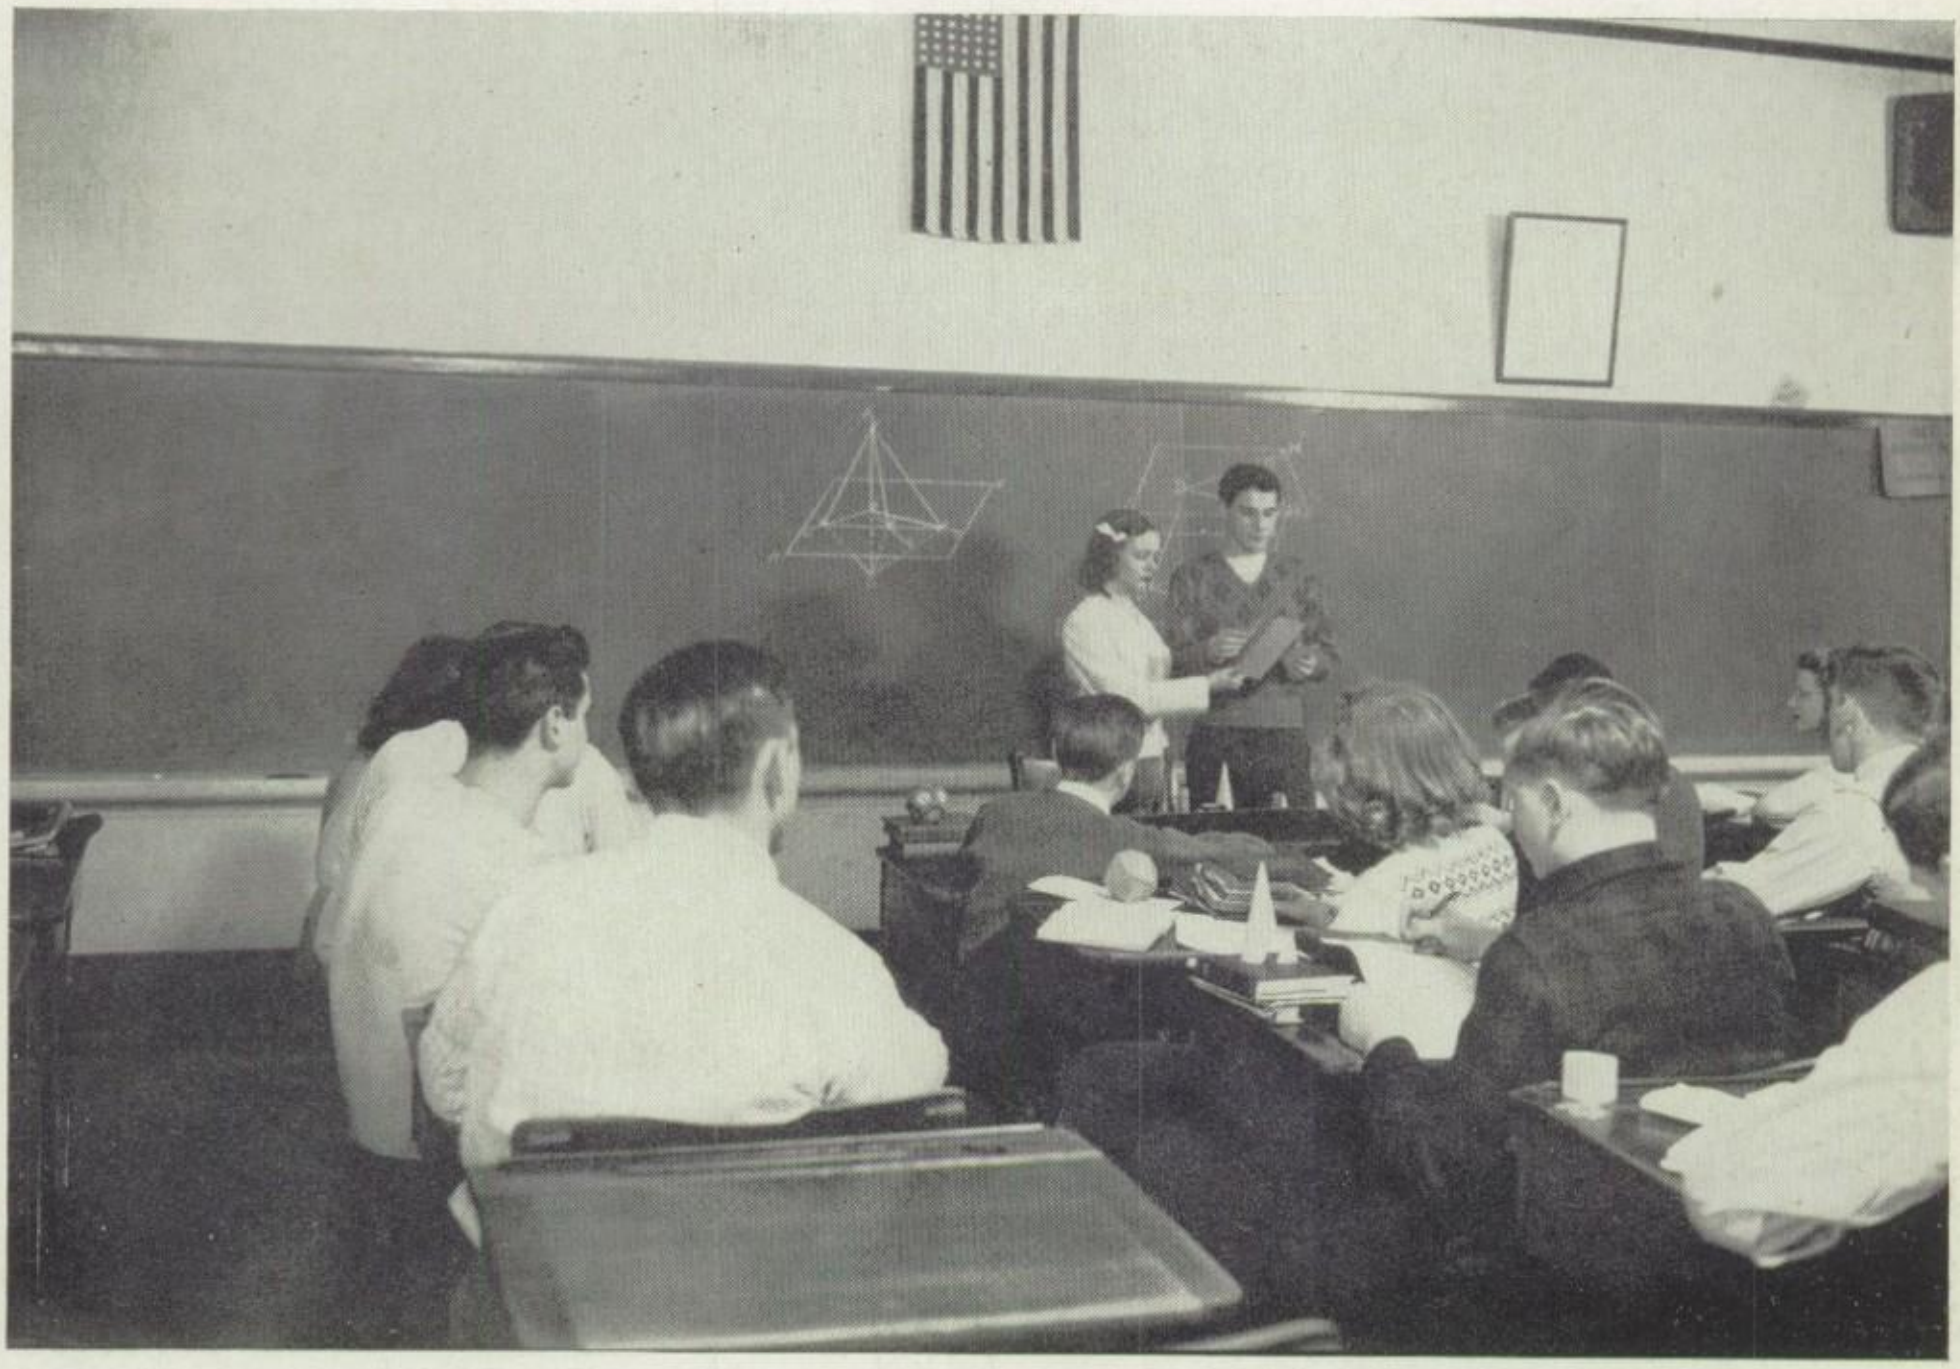
SCIENCE DEPARTMENT



Microscopes open new worlds to curious beginning scientists in the biology lab. In this case, the more we looked the MORE we saw . . . in water . . . a lock of hair . . . a drop of blood . . . EVEN a piece of paper.

PHYSICS . . . chemistry . . . biology . . . all gained new emphasis. Things were different now . . . because of Nagasaki . . . Hiroshima. Atomic energy was the marvel . . . and terror . . . of the scientific world. There was a new emphasis upon understanding of all people . . . everywhere. We thought of Bikini . . . and wondered. Would science be the servant of mankind . . . or its master? We studied to know more. Just a little . . . was not enough.

MATHEMATICS DEPARTMENT



Barbara Zellers and Al Roth demonstrated for the solid geometry class the passing of a plane through a cone. Other models, too, make 3-dimensional space real to young mathematicians.

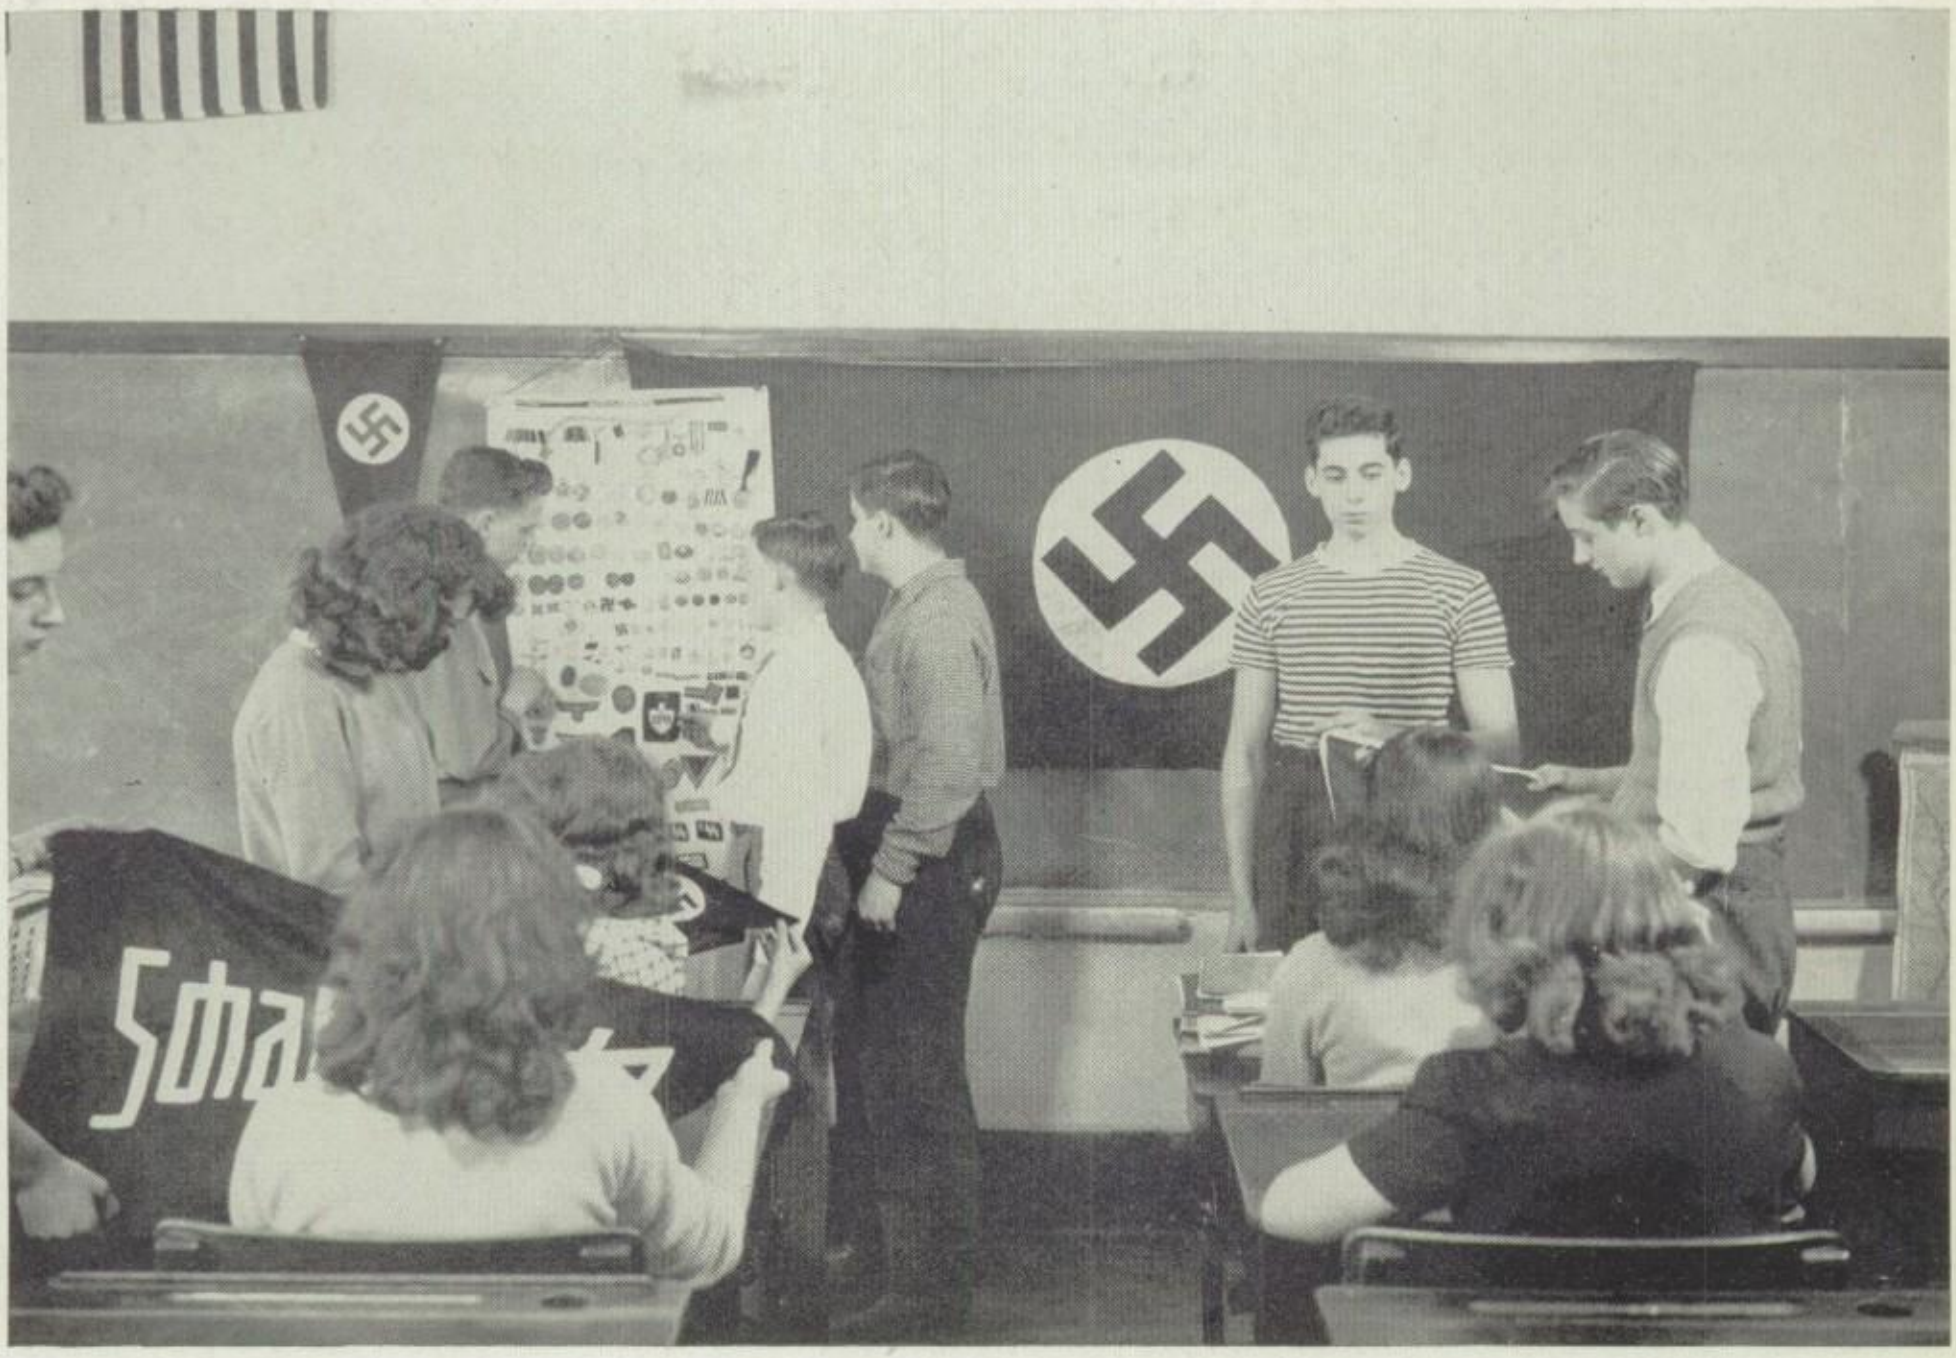
AN exact science . . . mathematics emphasized the use of precise terms . . . general ideas or vague generalities were just beginnings. To think better is to live better . . . in the classroom . . . in the school . . . in the home. Math was more than perpendiculars . . . planes . . . equations . . . identities . . . or cosines. We could learn ideals of mastery for a problem . . . for a calculation . . . for a situation in engineering . . . architecture . . . for a life.

SOCIAL SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

Pupils in the world history class of Mr. W. A. Smith look to the maps to identify places and areas that made news today that was history tomorrow.

HISTORY showed us the living past . . . Economics helped us to understand inflation . . . prices . . . scarcities . . . Civics acquainted us with the aspects of good government . . . and the real meaning of democracy. All of us realized the new importance of social science. We watched U. N. in its trials . . . We looked for gleams in the diplomatic darkness. We hoped for a lasting peace . . . lest this one be the last peace. Strikes . . . economic crises . . . diplomatic tensions . . . were signs of the times that made us think.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT



Medals, insignia, and swastikas interested members of the German classes. These souvenirs of war were grim reminders in times of peace.

A people become interesting in proportion as we can see them through the "eyes" of their own language. Spain, France, Germany . . . were remote from us geographically . . . but through their language we came to know Goethe . . . Cervantes . . . Hugo. These were people, too . . . We talked their language . . . read their literature . . . sang their songs . . . and we understood. They were also in search of . . . the better life.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS DEPARTMENT

Boys and girls used their hands as well as their heads to make tables, book racks, and other articles of home furnishings. Could you do as well?

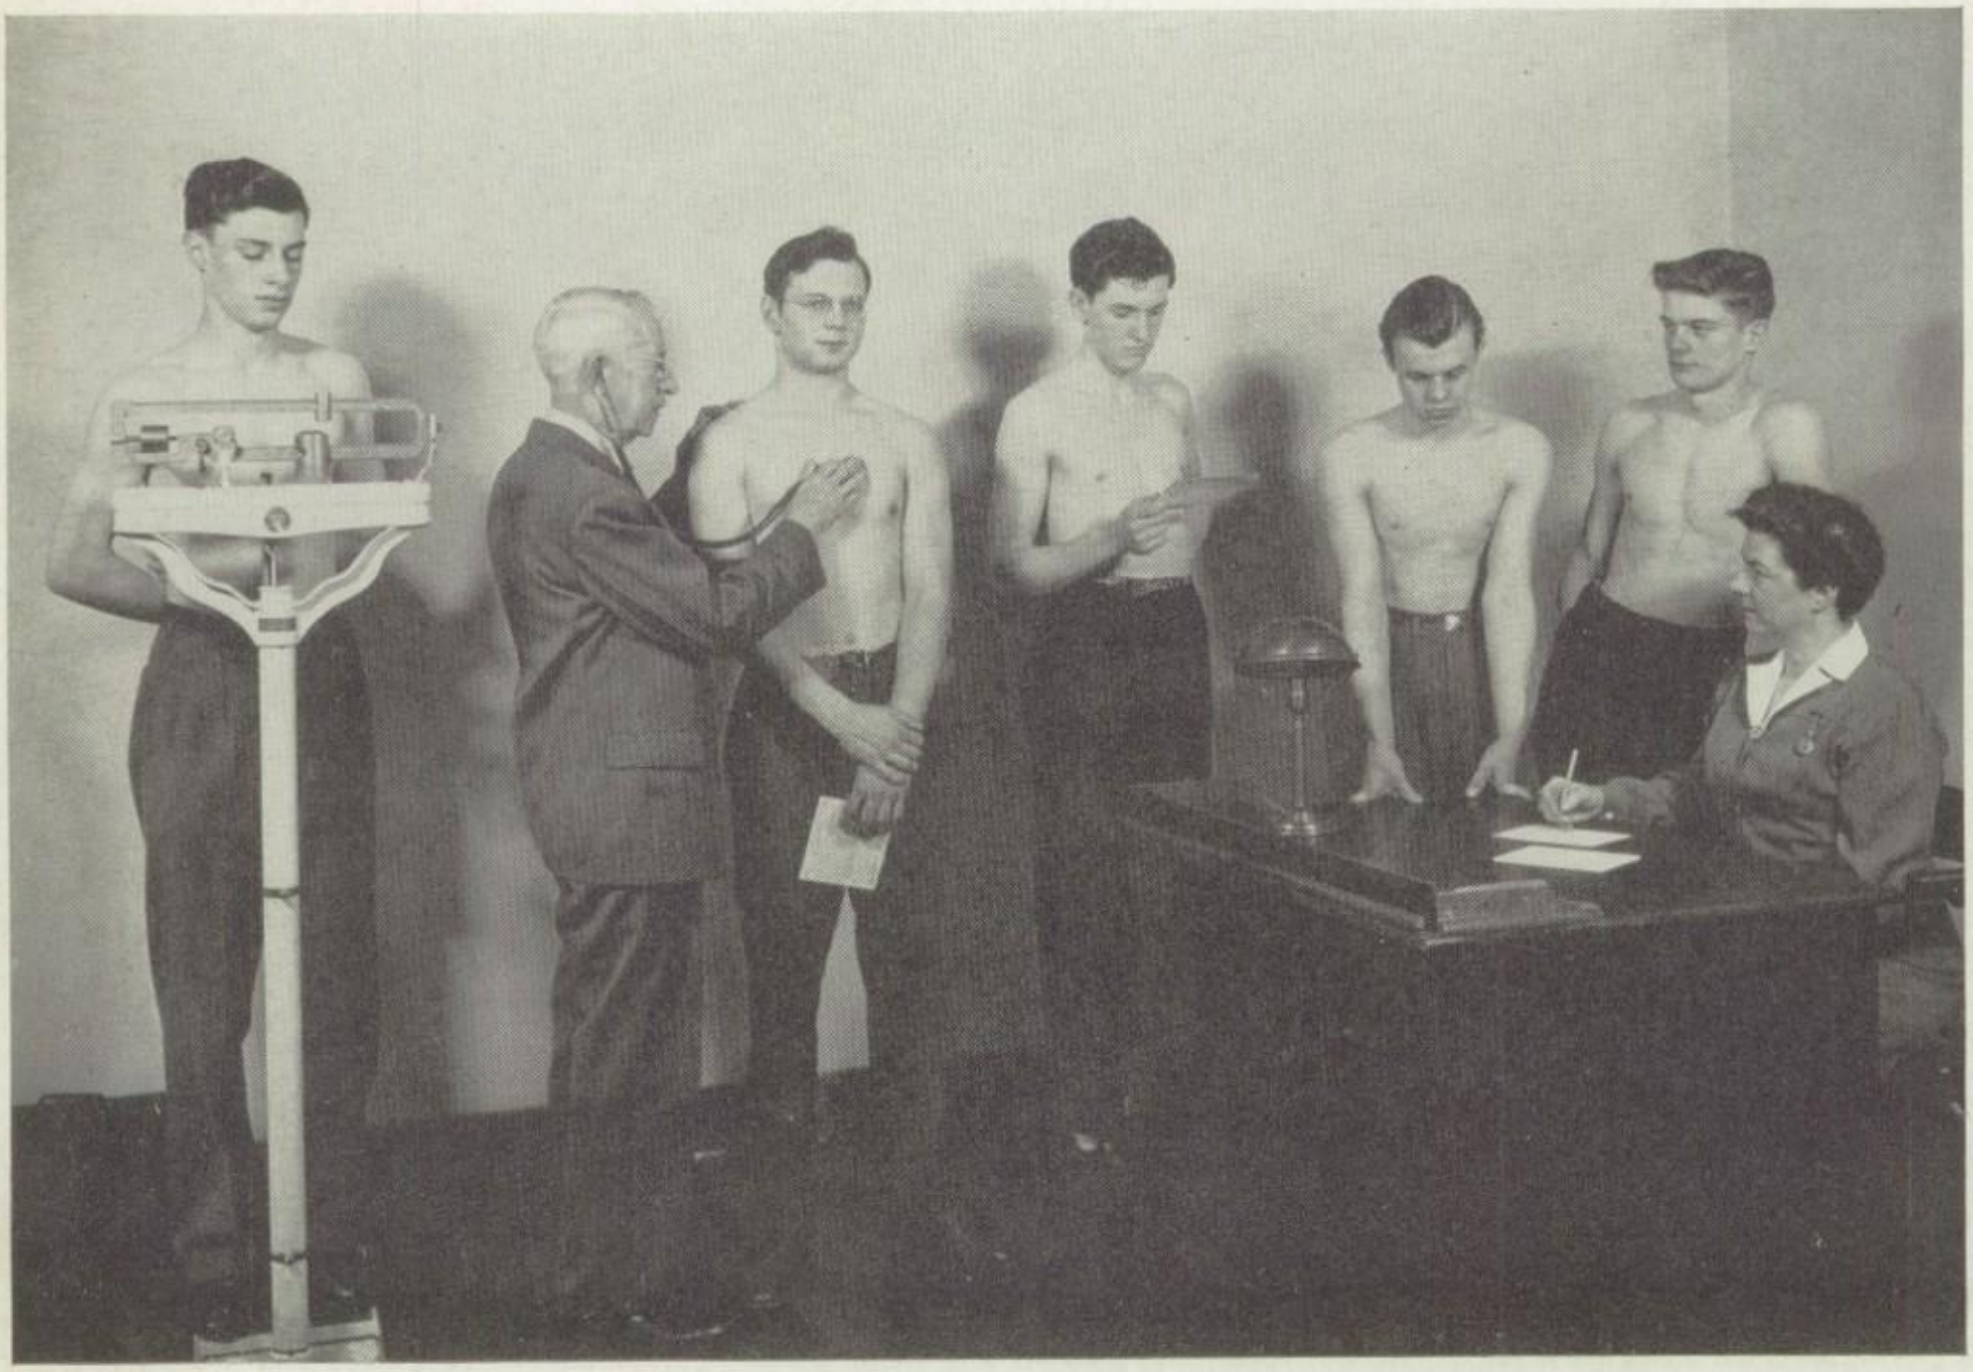
CREATIVE living shows its best expression in some work of beauty. In the woodshop . . . in the machine shop . . . we learned to make the sketches . . . the drawings . . . the blue-print . . . take on proportion. Meaningless numbers and lines finally became chests and cabinets. We amazed ourselves . . . We saw the miracle of wood and metal refinished by stain and paint and varnish. In our own way . . . better things . . . for better living.

CULTURAL ARTS DEPARTMENT

In a "design for living," home economics students demonstrated what the well-dressed girl will be wearing this season. "And I did it all, myself!"

IN music . . . in art . . . in home making . . . in books . . . boys and girls learned that the beautiful can be achieved by hard work plus inspiration . . . in good singing . . . good books . . . good living. All helped us to live more abundantly . . . more beautifully, the ideal that was life for each of us.

HEALTH AND PHYSICAL ED. DEPT.



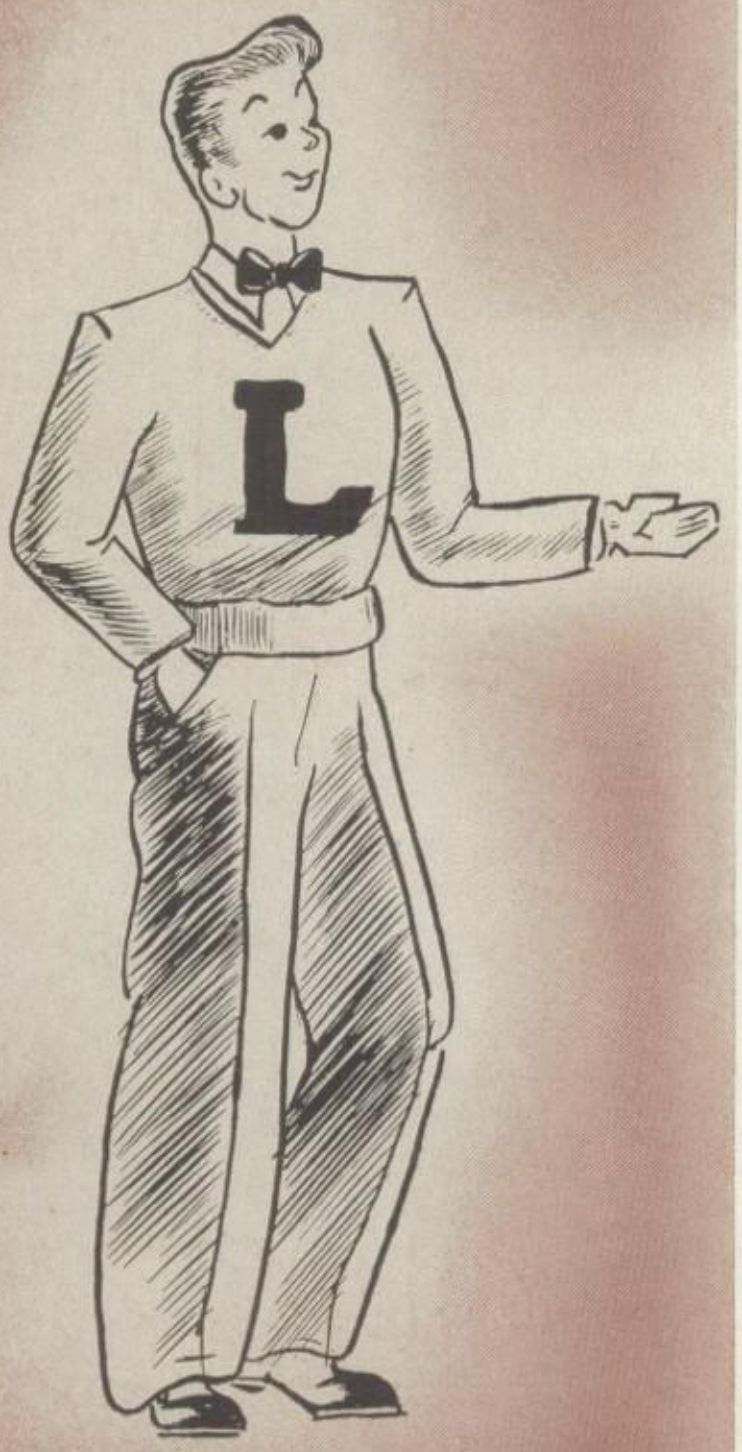
Dr. Baldwin, school doctor, and Mrs. Rachel McDaniel, school nurse, give boys a check-up as they prepare to secure work permits.

GOOD health depends upon sound bodies . . . Knowledge of sound health principles will build strong bodies . . . Frequent check-up will keep our bodies strong. We played together in fun . . . and learned to win with a smile and lose as a good sport. Team play taught the values of cooperation on the court . . . in the football field . . . in the gymnasium. Cooperation in life's situations makes for team play . . . and success.

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT

Business pupils learn the principles of accuracy in posting ledgers in a bookkeeping class.

BUSINESS skills are necessary in our complex economic society . . . Commercial students learn practical skills . . . New techniques . . . typing skills . . . speed . . . but beyond speed . . . accuracy. Business executives require careful stenographers . . . efficient . . . prompt . . . business-like. Knowledge of shorthand is essential. Good school work gives promise of good office work. Pupils learn today valuable techniques for the business world tomorrow.



CLASSES

CLASSES were geared to win a war . . . Now they were planned to understand a war and win a peace . . . for our time . . . and always. Seniors faced a challenging . . . perplexing world to which they were to bring wisdom for understanding the problems before them. Underclassmen tried to seek meaning in chaos . . . confusion . . . uncertainty.

SCHOOL LIFE

BOOKS . . . assignments . . . maps . . . Yes, these were important jobs for all of us . . . We found time too for fun . . . for friendship . . . for frolic. Too soon events became memories . . . the pictures captured their highlights forever. Honors came as appropriate rewards for faithful service. Scholarship and leadership gave meaning to honor. Graduation closed happy days of parties and stunts . . . but we all remember.

1946

"THAT LIFE MAY BE BETTER AND RICHER AND FULLER . . . "

"I pledge myself to uphold the high purpose . . ."

In a colorful candle light service in January and in the beautiful flower service of May newly elected members of the National Honor Society were installed in impressive services.

Membership in the National Honor Society was the high point of school honors bestowed on a small number of the graduating classes. In honoring them Lorain High School honored itself.

Our Banquet, a Very Special Day

Serge Glagolev, our charming and delightful toastmaster, keynoted an enjoyable evening of food and fun.

Girls in the service—of good food.

In an atmosphere of the Gay Nineties and the theme of special days we brought to a close our senior days. It was fun to eat . . . to laugh . . . to reminisce . . .

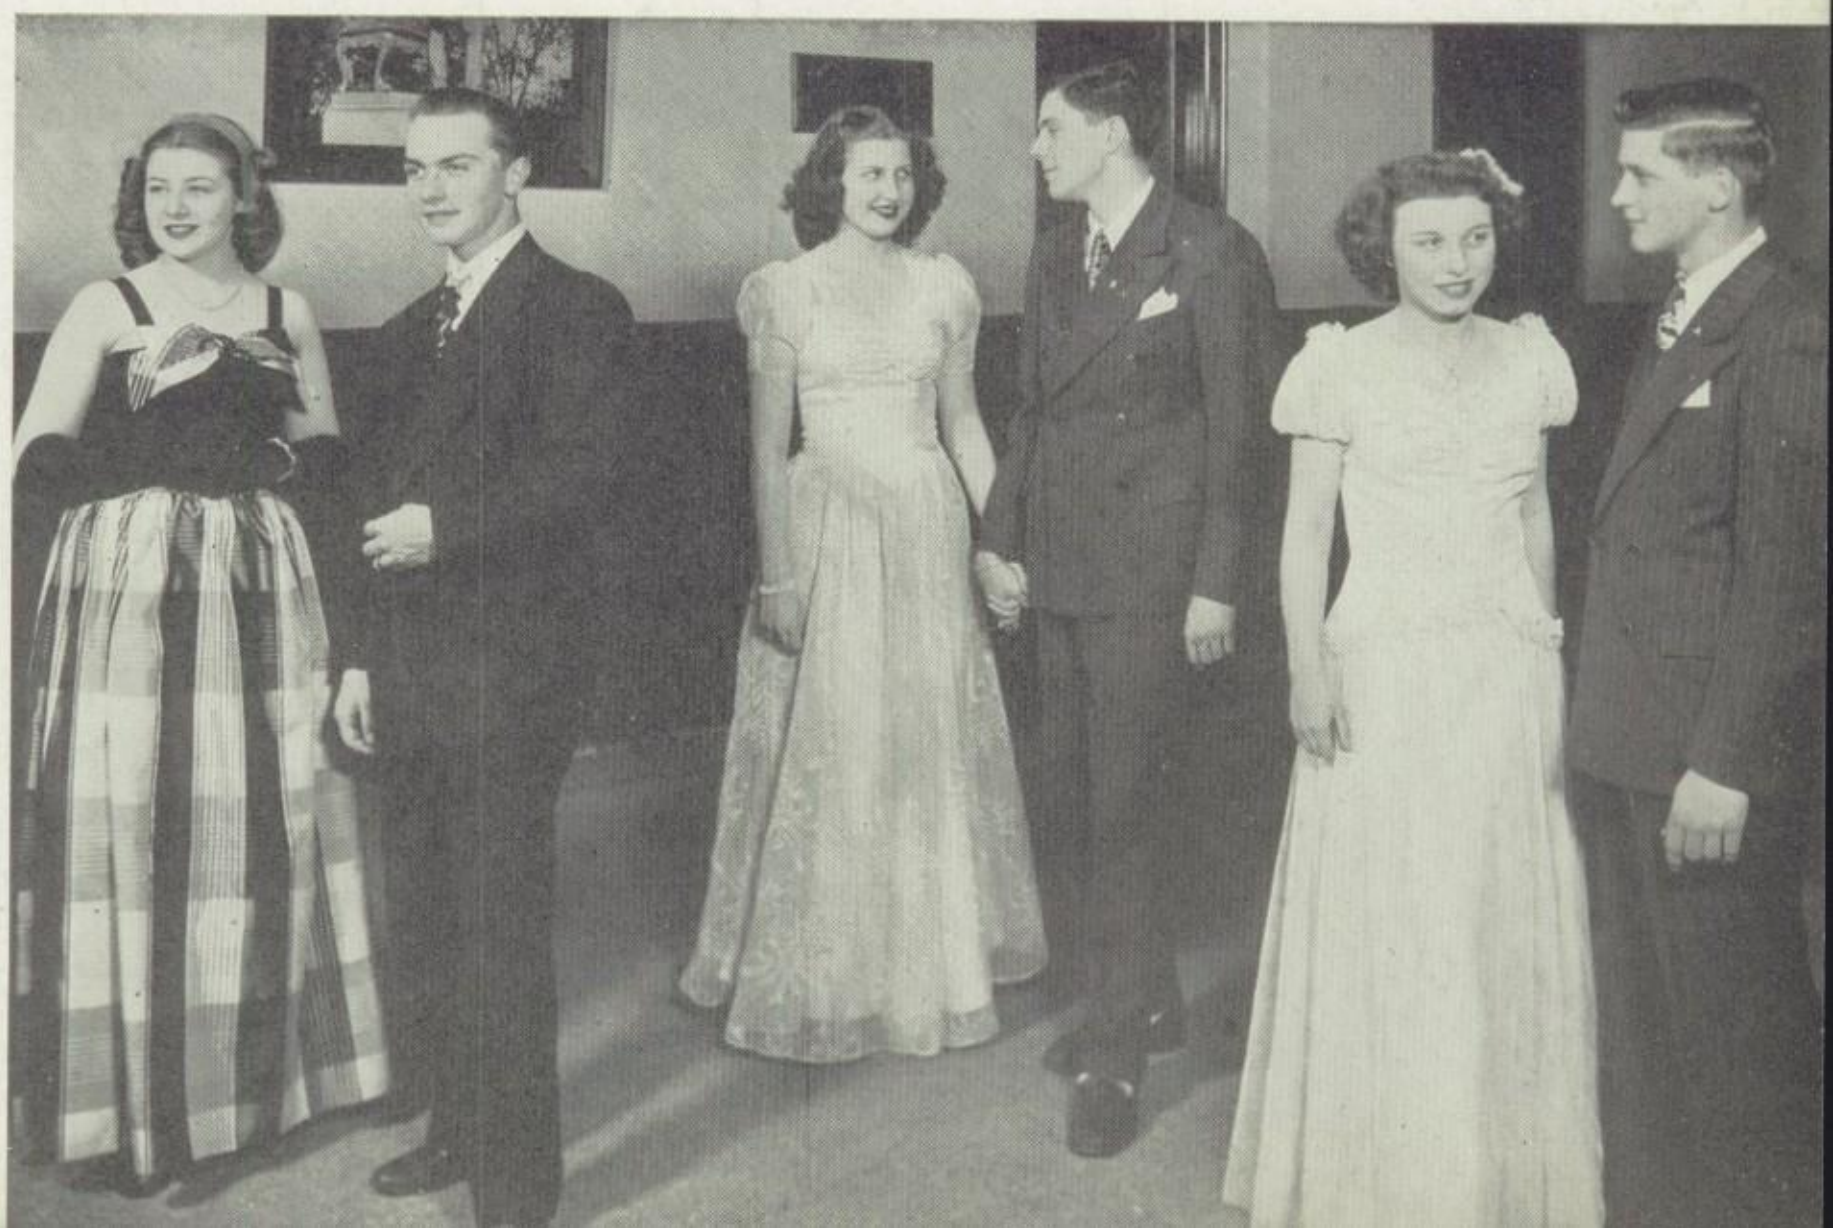
For Seniors and Servicemen . . . the Long Awaited Day!

Donna Stephan and Elvira Sestelli rejoiced. For all the seniors commencement was a happy occasion.

Don Bunker presented our class for their diplomas, and now is about to receive his from Mr. Svete as Mr. Luttrell calls his name.

Ed Warner and John Demyan returned home to graduate in a special uniform. In their country's service . . . They didn't wait until graduation.

Introducing only a few of the Banquet Dates for THAT night.



We Cheered Them On To Victory

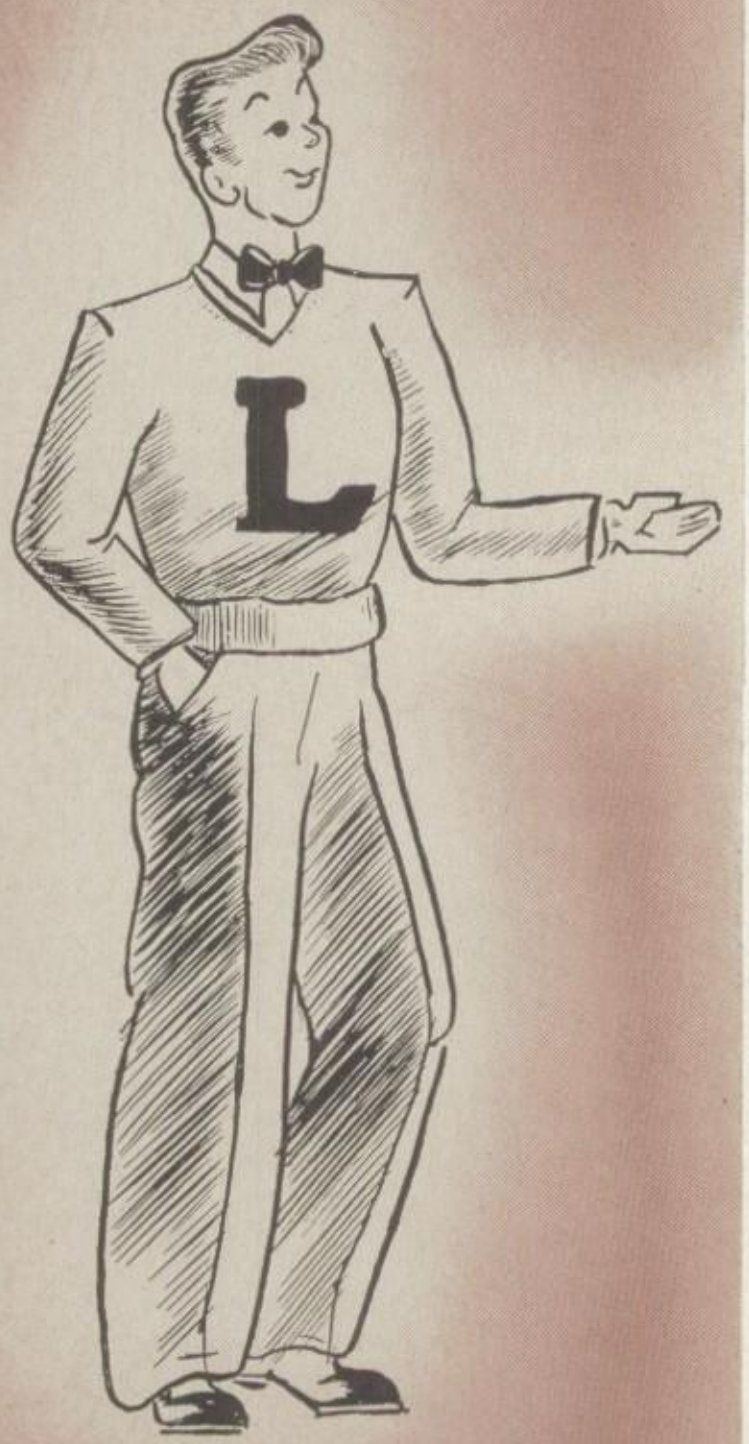
Patty MacFarland, Charles Rhinehart, and Frances Stilgenbauer thrilled the crowds with their high stepping and strutting. How we watched that baton. It's over! He caught it.

Fight! Fight! Fight!

At the game we cheered our fighting Steelmen. We were happy to win . . . but we could lose and be good sports. These too, were thrilling moments in our school life.

Senior-B's Frolic

Dancing . . . entertainment . . . refreshments . . . our evening was too short . . . We played games and danced. We took time out as everyone asked "Your autograph please." Our only party but what a time!



ACTIVITIES

OVER the top in the 8th Victory Loan . . . Edmund Schulz completes the chart as a sign of victory. There were bond campaigns . . . and special jobs . . . but we kept on going . . . The countless little services had to be continued . . . Slip Collectors . . . hall guards . . . safety patrol . . . student aids . . . all were on the job. Lorain High School carried on.

Large orange placards this year have replaced signing permits by the teachers and have been issued to each home room. This improvement saves much time for both teachers and pupils. No one is allowed in the corridor between classes without one of these cards.

There are approximately 100 hall guards this year. They obtain their position upon recommendation of teachers. In selection, however, the upper classmen are given preference. Mr. J. J. McKee is sponsor.

Senior Library Aids and Underclass Library Aids

A student may become a library aid only whe she is a junior or a senior. The activities of these aids include preparing new books for circulation, repairing old books that have been damaged, and doing reference work. They also collect, count, sort and alphabetize permits; they then take these to the study halls to be checked off the absentee lists. Helping to keep the shelves in order is another daily task. Miss Pitts is in charge of this group.

Stage Hands and Ushers and Movie Aids

The stage hands, who are under the supervision of Mr. Hummel, and the ushers, directed by Mr. Shook, ably fulfill their required tasks. The duties of these groups consist of assisting in morning assembly programs, aiding in the dramatics class play, ushering at football games and also at the music festivals.

Mr. E. A. Monegan is in charge of visual aids, which consist not only of classroom movies but also of noon movies. To become a qualified operator one must first learn the fundamentals from one who is already experienced. He must then pass a given test which is supervised by Mr. Monegan. Six of these projectionists are then selected on their capability to serve as operators for the noon movies.

Senate Council

Although the Senate Council does not meet regularly, its legislation has proved without a doubt its importance and usefulness. The students are admitted on their scholarship and are also voted in at the beginning of each semester. Its last year activities included providing for the memorial plaque for gold star service men, sponsoring a school dance, revising the constitution and starting on the project of revising the school guide book. The last project will be carried over into next year.

Members of the '46-B class were inducted in a flower ceremony. Those elected in their Senior-B year were Mary Ann Cooper, Byron Hoffman, Rose Levay, Rose Marie Garber, and Joan Rosso.

Leadership Service

To be a candidate for the National Honor Society, a student must rank in the upper third of his class in scholarship. Teachers who are familiar with the candidates grade them in leadership and character. Service rendered to the school is the fourth cardinal requisite of the National Honor Society. Those who have the highest composite score are automatically eligible to take the pledge of the National Honor Society.

The Band

"Mr. Brown is back!" Those were the words that inspired the students of our high school band when they learned that Director Howard F. Brown had been recently discharged from the U. S. Navy and would soon take up his duties back at L.H.S. Doing a splendid job during his absence was Director Wilbur H. Tipton. The appreciation the pupils had for the band was not only shown in their tremendous applause at the Friday assemblies in which the band participated but also the football field where big ovations were received for the beautiful strains of music and the different stunts performed between halves. Two of the stunts were a bubble pipe from which balloons filled with gas were released to complete this picture, and the other was the formation of a whirling airplane. The drum major and our two majorettes represented the turning propellers with their whirling batons.

Our band had done a good job. Congratulations!

The Orchestra

Yes. Music has helped make our lives richer, and better, and fuller; and music will continue to thrive and be appreciated as long as there are ears to hear and hearts to listen to the beautiful strains.

Mr. Tipton has again been pinch-hitting for Mr. Brown. Our assembly programs would seem almost lost without the orchestra "filling in" the intervals when the other activities have ceased or before they have begun. The appreciation of orchestra assemblies can also be realized by the tremendous applause of the students.

Not only has the orchestra played in assemblies, but it has also participated in the dramatics play, "The Taming of the Shrew," played between halves at basketball games, participted in the May Music Festival, and also taken part at the commencement exercises.

The A Cappella Choir

We sang . . . Music from the masters . . . Sacred music . . . secular music . . . Jolly tunes . . . thoughtful tunes. Ours was a mission of beauty . . . in song. There were no barriers here. Timely music was international in its message . . . of peace . . . hope . . . good-will to all mankind. Better music led us to a better appreciation of the beauty all around us. Here, too, was life . . . as it was expressed in the majesty of song.

Cool . . . determined . . . alert. Coach Bryce Bloom piloted the Steelmen through his first season as Varsity Head Coach.

It was all Heights . . . the score 26-6 showed their superiority . . . Shaker bowed to our superior team and Shaw fell to the same tune. After a loss to Sandusky and a tie with Lakewood . . . the Steelmen rolled over Elyria 26-0 to close the season. The final standings did not show the fun . . . the thrills . . . the excitement of another successful season.

The Season

In an overtime period the varsity basketball team nipped Amherst by the bare margin . . . Excitement and thrills started with this game . . . They ended with the final game with Bedford. In the league we lost to Cleveland Heights. Shaw and one game with Lakewood. We lost . . . but were not a defeated team . . . close scores showed that we were in there all the way . . . win or lose.

Varsity Basketball

Graduation took Bunker, Pawlak, Stephenson, and Trbovich from the regular line-up. Next year's squad will be built around the nucleus of Bangas, Simonovich, Atley, Ciarrone and Stefanik. Angelo Bangas scored 252 points this season — second highest in L. H. S. cage history.

SUMMER TERM BEGINS JUNE 10 — FALL TERM BEGINS SEPTEMBER 3-4

Now that you've graduated high school, we will equip you for a good job with our practical course of business training.

It's an old and true saying that "the trained worker gets the job he wants, the untrained has to take what he can get."

As usual, the best jobs will go to those prepared to accept them. These positions pay good wages. They offer you the means of getting those things you have long wanted. Don't be lost in the crowd. A little time spent now in concentrated study will pay you big dividends all through your life.

Stenographers, secretaries, typists, comptometer operators and bookkeepers are needed in the new era of business prosperity.
